

ATV festival returns to northern NH

July 13, 2011

BERLIN, N.H.—ATV enthusiasts can take part in the second annual festival at New Hampshire's Jericho Mountain State Park celebrating the activity.

The festival will take place July 30-31. In addition to riding the park's 80-plus miles of scenic trails, including one that leads from the park to certain points in the city of Berlin, visitors can take part in or watch the Jericho Mud Races in the mud pit that was built last year.

The Can-Am Jericho ATV Festival is $3 per person for those age 13 and up. Riders who are not registered in the state will be able to ride certain trail networks but they must have an event wristband.■
